

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS STRIKE WHEN TEACHER SUSPENDS BOY PUPIL

"Objection to Tyranny Is Obedience to God," Their Battle Cry.

Two hundred boys, pupils of Bryant High School, Wilbur avenue and Academy street, Long Island City, went on strike this morning, demanding the reinstatement of a youth who was suspended last Friday and the transfer of a teacher who is unpopular with the boys and girls. The youngsters, ranging in ages between fifteen and seventeen years, congregated in the Queensboro Bridge Plaza, where they made the echoes ring with shouts of their motto:

"Objection to tyranny is obedience to God."

Dr. Peter E. Demarest, principal of the school, chooses to ignore the strike, contending that there was to-day merely an unusual number of truancy cases. He said he thought most of the children would find that obedience to their parents was not tyranny and that most of the youngsters would be back in school on Monday. Meantime he has no intention of reinstating the youth whom he suspended nor of transferring the unpopular teacher.

She is Miss Julia Garrity, who teaches algebra.

Harry Walker of No. 187 Pearl street, a senior, and one of the most popular boys in school, is the one whose reinstatement is demanded. He cut up in the study hall last Friday and as his imitators to his duties was the culmination of many acts of youthful mischief, Dr. Demarest suspended him.

The strikers picketed all the entrances to the school and predicted that by nightfall they would have enlisted several hundred more, both boys and girls, to the cause. Bryant High School is the largest school in Queens, having an enrollment of between 1,500 and 1,600.

Long Island's Largest Man Dead. RIVERHEAD, N. Y., March 12.—Stanley Louder of Northport died suddenly last night of apoplexy at the Wyandance Hotel, at Greenport. He was perhaps the largest man on Long Island, weighing upward of 500 pounds.

ENGLISH EARL PREDICTS VICTORY FOR MILITANTS

Though Opposed to Votes for Women, He Believes Methods Will Win.

The Earl de la Warr, who arrived to-day on the Mauretania of the Cunard line, says the British women will get suffrage. The Earl is not in favor of women receiving the vote, but he says the militant methods will win their point.

"Here they are, chopping up things, burning homes, smashing famous paintings and there is no way to stop them," declared the Earl. "What can you do with them? It is hard for gentlemen to treat with women who are not ladies. The English are getting awfully tired of the militants, but since there is no law to prevent their continuing their torch and axe campaign, I think that the Government will finally give them the vote in sheer desperation."

The Earl will spend a few days in Montreal, after which he will visit Delaware.

"You know it was one of my ancestors who founded the State of Delaware," said the Earl, "and naturally I have a great deal of affection for that Commonwealth. I will visit all the historical spots in the State before returning home."

Mrs. Norman Whitehouse of New York, who lent great assistance to the suffrage movement in America, was also a Mauretania passenger. Mrs. Whitehouse said she was not in favor of the English militant methods.

"Those methods would not do in this country," said Mrs. Whitehouse. "The suffrage cause is going ahead steadily here and it will not be long before all the States have given women the vote."

ILLNESS MAKES HIM A THIEF.

Montague Pike May Receive Medical Treatment Instead of Sentence.

Montague J. Pike, who is said to have robbed more than a hundred Bronx flats in the guise of a Board of Health inspector, was arraigned to-day before Judge Gibbs in the Bronx County Court. He pleaded guilty to two charges and told the Court he thought he was lucky that only two indictments were brought against him. There were twenty-six complaints, said Judge Gibbs, "that if indictments had been returned in all these cases it might have been possible to sentence you for 50 years."

"Yes, sir, thank you," said Pike. Judge Gibbs believes the young man's trouble is mental and amenable to treatment. For this reason sentence was delayed for a week.

SIX-YEAR-OLD LAD WHO CROSSED OCEAN ALONE AND WON FRIENDS.

The most popular passenger on the Mauretania of the Cunard line, which arrived to-day from Liverpool, was Herbert Kugler, six years old. Little Herbert travelled across alone, being watched over by Mrs. Alice Rows, a stewardess. All the passengers became acquainted with him and contested to entertain him. He went over the ship from stern to stern, down into the fore-room and up on the bridge to see how the ship is navigated.

A year ago Herbert went with his father and mother from his home in Akron, O., to London to visit his grandfather. The grandfather was so taken with the boy that when the parents returned to America he insisted on detaining him. The mother spent a year with out her son and capied for him to be sent home on the Mauretania. The father and mother were on the pier to meet the little voyager and he was almost smothered in kisses.

WILSON-M'ADOO ENGAGEMENT PLANS

Formal Announcement From White House Expected Soon by Washington Society.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—Formal announcement of the engagement of Secretary McAdoo and Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the President and Mrs. Wilson, was expected to be made to-day at the White House.

But this afternoon those best informed declared it had been decided at the White House not to issue the formal announcement to-day, but to do so in the near future.

Persons in a position to know said confirmation of reports of the engagement had been decided upon by the Wilson family although it had not been intended to make the announcement at such an early date. Publication, however, in many newspapers of the prospective marriage influenced the decision at the White House.

Rumors were about that with the marriage of Mr. McAdoo and Miss Wilson, which is expressed to take place in June, the secretary would resign from the Cabinet and be appointed Ambassador to France, but White House officials said such reports were without foundation.

$860,294 MORE VOTED FOR SNOW REMOVAL

March Snow Storm Likely to Cost City $2,000,000—It's $1,241,294 So Far.

The Board of Estimate this afternoon gave Street Cleaning Commissioner Fetherston $660,294 more for the removal of the snow that fell on March 1, and then, just to show the Commissioner that there was no hard feeling, let him name another deputy, who will receive $6,000 a year. A little more than a week ago the Commissioner received $881,000 for the removal of snow. So far he has received $1,241,294.

It is expected that the storm of March 1 will cost the City of New York about $2,000,000—plus the $6,000-a-year deputy.

It could not be learned at the office of Mr. Fetherston to-day who will be appointed to the $6,000 berth. Radical changes for snow removal are under consideration. It is now admitted that the present plan is a failure. One of the plans under discussion is for a long term contract for snow removal, which will allow a contractor to invest in snow ploughs and steam shovels. An outfit of this kind, it is estimated, would cost at least $500,000.

PSEUDO PHYSICIAN CARRIED BURGLAR'S TOOLS IN HIS BAG

As a Result He Gets Year in Prison and Fine for Robbing Homes.

Representing himself to be a physician, Ralph Jacobs, twenty-six years old, a travelling bag maker, of No. 345 West Thirty-fourth street, is alleged to have gained entrance to many houses and robbed them. On a charge of having burglar's tools in his possession he was arrested on Feb. 26 at 123 Delancey street and to-day was sentenced by Justice Zeller, Hermann and O'Keefe in Special Sessions to pay a fine of $500 and spend one year in the penitentiary.

Probation Officer Mullins, who investigated Jacobs's record, related to the court the manner in which Jacobs piled his trade as a burglar. "The defendant had cards printed," said Mullins, "and posed as a physician from the Board of Health. Using this card he would gain access to homes and then rob them. He always dressed in white duck trousers and carried a physician's instrument case. The case contained burglar's tools."

"The fellow was so daring that he made an official of the Eye and Ear Infirmary at Thirtieth street and Second avenue believe he was a bona fide physician. He was allowed the liberty of the hospital for several months."

Jacobs is said to have operated on a man's leg while posing as a physician, and as a result it is probable that "patient" will lose the leg. "In another instance," Mullins said, "he gave a woman on Avenue B a box of pills. After taking one of the pills she was forced to stay in bed a week."

Jacobs has a prison record. He came to New York from Boston about a year ago after serving twenty-one months in the Charlestown, Mass., penitentiary for receiving stolen goods."

FORGETS EVEN HER NAME WHEN MOON IS FULL

Woman Appeals to Police to Help Find Herself—Claimed by Husband.

A woman walked into the Sheephead Bay police station early to-day and said to the lieutenant: "Will you tell me the way home?" "Where do you live?" he asked. She looked puzzled for a minute and realized she had forgotten. "What's your name then?" asked the officer.

She thought a while and couldn't recall that, either. Dr. McKittick was summoned from the Coney Island Hospital and talked to her until she remembered she was Rose Peterson, twenty-seven, of No. 373 Stillwell avenue, Sheephead Bay. Her husband was notified and went to the station for her.

"Aphasia," explained the lieutenant. "No, full moon," he corrected. "She has strange spells every time the moon gets full."

GOV. GLYNN PROPOSES MARKET COMMISSION AFTER FRENCH SYSTEM

Co-operative Plan Designed to Correct Inequalities in the Division of Profits.

ALBANY, March 12.—The establishment of a single-headed food and market commission was recommended by Gov. Glynn to-day in a special message to the Legislature.

The Governor's idea is that the commissioner to be designated should be authorized to assist and encourage the establishment of local markets under the control of co-operative associations of producers or consumers, and to help them in the establishment of grades and standards of farm food products. The commissioner also should be empowered, the Governor believes, to establish general auction markets at such points in the State as he deems advisable.

The message explained that the proposed system had been worked out after consultation with representatives of farmers and consumers' organizations on the model of the system which has proved successful in France. There this system yields a substantial profit to the municipality and the Governor thinks that in a short time the plan here would be at least self-supporting. Meantime he recommends an appropriation of $35,000 to cover the initial expenditure. The entire plan, it is explained, is designed to correct inequalities in the division of profits between the producer and intermediary seller as produce sales now are conducted. Bills intended to make the Governor's plan operative were introduced to-day in the Assembly by Mr. Smith and in the Senate by Mr. Wheeler.

STARVING MOTHER STOLE.

She Goes to Prison and Children to Sisters of Mercy.

William, Joseph and Herman Wunderlich, seven, five and one year old respectively, were sent to the Sisters' Convent of Mercy in Brooklyn to-day by Justice Wilkin in the Children's Court of that borough. Their mother is in jail, having been remanded for sentence to-day by Judge Dike, after pleading guilty to burglary. She is about to become a mother for the fourth time.

The story is one of abject poverty. Her husband is a horse-shoer, but could not get work. The starving wife entered and robbed two apartments in the neighborhood, using the money she scooped from her lot to buy food for the little ones.
